The League of Arab States is a regional organization established on March 22, 1945 that includes 22 Arab countries and is based in Cairo. Algeria has joined the League of Arab States on August 16, 1962, since joining the League of Arab States, four Arab summits, namely: The Algiers Ordinary Summit in November 1973, followed by the Algiers Emergency Summit (Bridfada Summit) in June 1988, which was held at the initiative of President Chadli Benjedjed to support the Palestinian uprising politically and materially.

The Algiers Ordinary Summit in March 2005, which was the first ordinary summit organized after the adoption of the annual periodical in Arab capitals, in alphabetical order of the Arab member states. The Algiers Summit of 2005 was held under the title "Life in its political, structural and organizational dimensions, and drew attention to achieving a precedent among Arab summits in the size of the international and regional presence that accompanied it, which aroused the interest of other countries, including Arab countries, about the diplomatic capabilities that Algeria has in leading joint Arab action and integrating it into the international climate. The summit was held in Algiers on the 22nd of March 2005, and it stressed the centrality of the Palestinian cause and absolute support for the rights of the Palestinian people, stressing the need to continue efforts and endeavors aimed at protecting the occupied city of Jerusalem and its holy sites, demanding the lifting of the Israeli siege on the Gaza Strip, condemning the use of force by the occupying Power, and emphasizing the adoption and support of the State of Palestine's approach to full membership in the United Nations.

With regard to the situation in the Arab world, it was stressed to work to strengthen joint Arab action to protect Arab national security, reject external interference in all its forms in the internal affairs of Arab countries, full solidarity with the Libyan people and support efforts aimed at ending the Libyan crisis, emphasize support for the legitimate Yemeni government, and the Arab countries play a collective leading role to contribute to efforts to end the Syrian crisis, and welcome the revitalization of constitutional life in Iraq. Renewing solidarity with the Lebanese Republic to maintain its security and stability, renewing support for the Federal Republic of Somalia in order to consolidate its national unity and stability, supporting the ongoing efforts to achieve a political solution in the Middle East, and the need to establish a zone free of nuclear weapons and weapons of mass destruction in the Middle East, strengthening and modernizing joint Arab action, and emphasizing the need to build a more balanced relations between the Arab Group and society. The need for Arab countries to participate in shaping the features of the new international system for the post-Covid pandemic, and many other topics and fields of interest in the Arab world.

On the fifth of June 2022, the Arab postal administrations, at the forty-first meeting of the Permanent Arab Committee for Post, unanimously approved the proposal of the Algerian Post to issue a joint Arab postage stamp on the occasion of the ordinary session of the Council of the League of Arab States at the summit level. In Algeria, the design of which was submitted by the Algerian Post.

كأس العالم FIFA قطر 2022™ FIFA WORLD CUP 2022™

21/11/2022

The FIFA World Cup is a professional football tournament held every four years, the trophy being competed for by the national teams of the member nations of the International Federation of Football Associations, or FIFA. The FIFA World Cup Competition was held for the first time in 1930 in Uruguay with 13 teams participating, and since 1998 has been competed for by 32 teams drawn into 8 groups of four teams, the most successful teams from each group entering into a knockout stage of 16 teams. From 2026 the number of national teams competing in the group stage will be increased to 48. The 22nd edition of the 2022 FIFA Men's World Cup was held in Qatar from 20th November to 18 December 2022, and was the first World Cup to be held in the Arab and Islamic world, and only the second to be held in Asia following the 2002 competition hosted jointly by Japan and South Korea. To avoid the discomfort of Qatar's hot climate the tournament was held in November and December and so became the first tournament not to be held during the summer. The games were played over a short time frame of 29 days, with 94 matches played in eight stadiums in five cities, at an estimated cost of more than $ 220 billion, making this tournament the most expensive World Cup held to date. As the hosts, Qatar automatically qualified, along with 31 teams who reached the final stages through the qualifiers. Qatar lost all three of its matches in Group A and became the first host nation to lose all its group matches, making it only the second host team to be eliminated from its group after the 2010 World Cup in South Africa. The opening match of the tournament between Qatar and Ecuador was held on 20 November at the Al Bayt Stadium in Al Rayyan, and the cup final was held at Lusail Stadium between the cup holders France and Argentina on 18 December, which coincides with Qatar National Day. Argentina was crowned FIFA World Cup champions by beating France 4-2 on penalties following a 1-1 draw after extra time. France's Kylian Mbappé became the first player to score a hat-trick in a World Cup final since England's Geoff Hurst in 1966, and set the record by scoring eight goals during the World Cup final. He was awarded the Golden Ball for scoring the most goals, and the Silver Ball trophy as the second most outstanding player of the tournament. The Argentine captain Lionel Messi was chosen as the best player of the tournament and was awarded the Golden Ball d'Or, or Golden Ball, and became the first player ever to win the award twice. Emiliano Martínez of Argentina won the Golden Glove award for best goalkeeper and Enzo Fernández, also from Argentina, the best Young Player. In June 2022, the Arab postal administrations unanimously approved at the forty-first meeting of the Permanent Arab Post Committee the proposal of the Algerian Post to issue a joint Arab postage stamp on the occasion of the World Cup in Qatar, the design of which was submitted by the Qatar Post.
